

Training Workshops: 1-4 March

Full Program: 8-12 March

Virtual

Chemical Renaissance:

Building Resilience, Agility & Innovation in an Enhanced Global Role

Join IHS Markit and other industry leading organizations for the 36th annual World Petrochemical Conference taking place 8-12 March in an innovative virtual format for a week of live sessions and top deck interviews.

Deep expert sessions based on unequalled data and analytics will be available from 70+ experts in all major petrochemical and specialty chemical families; plus, learning workshops with fast-track access to everything needed for deep knowledge of specific industry sectors and business processes.

World Petrochemical Conference 2021 Themes

- Sustainability and recycling concerns amid shifting priorities
- Investment opportunities and challenges in chemicals
- Shift and increase in supply, demand and prioritization of key chemical commodities/products
- Global impact of oil price & demand
- Regulatory and policy shifts
- Global economic outlooks
- The role of technologies enabling social, environmental and economic sustainability objectives across the industry

Reasons to Attend the World Petrochemical Conference 2021

1. Unparalleled coverage of base and specialty chemicals all along the supply chain with thorough market analysis that can't be found elsewhere
2. Innovative networking opportunities including one-to-one and group video calls, instant messaging, profile matching between attendees and more.
3. Live discussions and updates from industry leaders including those from Shell, Chevron, ExxonMobil and LyondellBasell.
4. Actionable insights on key areas of focus from all points of view ranging from top-level outlooks to in-depth data to give you a well-rounded perspective
5. Up-to-the-minute detail and analysis of market factors with context around the immediate implications to your business for unrivaled visibility and direction as to how to take action
6. 70+ presentations made available before the start of the conference that allow you to dive deep into individual products, topics and markets, with essential supply and demand pricing intelligence
7. Participate in every session of the Executive Conference, Live Expert Panels and all 8 special programs as a part of your registration (plus, access to all the content on-demand after the conference)

Register for WPC 2021 to join the conversation, network with hundreds of industry professionals from around the globe and connect with speakers, partners & more throughout the week!